“ My most favorite-tist people in the world are hurting and heartbroken. I can't help but think that Richard is pleased. It's "In the history books as the week we all were told to stay home. Ironic.... Mr. Event Planner. This is quit the big event!! Richard had this thing about him, it was a glow, 'The Glow OF Life, really. He was always pleasant, had a smile, was kind, he put the FUN in the game and the G.O. in GO. He was the planner of the parties.

Sending comfort, hugs and love. May you all find strength and peace within to heal. He will be sooooo missed and cherish forever. The stories of him will be shared forever and go down in history. Love you all!

“ My amazing grandpa who was the epitomy of love, optimism and hard work (but with so much fun!). He was never too tired (even at 81) to roll around the floor with his great grand children. He really did bring the brightest smile and best energy to all within his space. He was strong but gentle and oh so loyal and reliable to friends and family. The family that he raised, grew and cultivated are the fruits of the man that he was. He was the most amazing one of a kind, best grandpa, father and great grandpa that we could've asked for. We will miss him so much. His love and devotion with my Nana is one of my favorite relationships that i admire.
Love you (GREAT) Grandpa,

“ Mr. D was a constant steady as a rock man of God. To some the word constant might not read to be grand enough however when I think of Mr. D's character, love of family, friend, community and those in need I think of the song

My Eye Is On The Sparrow,
When Jesus is my portion
A constant friend is He
His eye is on the sparrow
And I know He watches over me.

Mr. D was, is and will continue to be that 'Constant' to watch over his loving wife of 49 years Patricia Mrs. D, family and those of us still here running the race to see Jesus and Mr. D and our loved once again.

To Rennnnneeee my friend and sister I once told you 'Girl your dad must love you because we can be a handful.' Allow that love to envelope you now like never before and lean on all who love you but must of all lean not on your own understanding but the Love and promise of Jesus Christ Our Savior.
